The image contains a table with numerical data, but the specific content and context are not clear due to the visual representation.

APPENDIX A

The table displays the comparison of various parameters. The cells with scores of high (1.0) are filled in black, while other scores are represented in a gradient. See Table 1 and Appendix B for a comprehensive overview.